V 1.6

High-ho Jumpers! Welcome to the Crazy Confectioneries Market! I hope you brought your sweet tooth because you're about to be drowned in mountains of sugar!

So, ever found yourself on a level in a video game made up of nothing but cakes, icecream, and any other treat that gets you drooling, then thought 'I wish I had one of those'? Then this is the supplement for you! Within a dimension that is nothing but daylit sky everywhere you get the chance to make your dream playground, made of sweets! And it absolutely connects to your warehouse so your companions can have fun too! Best of all, anything you purchase here replenishes no matter how much you eat and your dimension is completely protected from contamination of any kind!

Here's 1000 Candy Points to get you started!

Supplement Mode

Is there a particular Jump that is candy themed or has a candy dimension in it? If you'd rather pair this builder with it, instead of leaving it as something you stumbled upon one day, feel free to do so! CP pools remain separate with one exception if you have CP left over from the Jump you can freely transfer it for use here to buy more sweet options.

Free Stuff

Let's just get this out of the way, hm?

Safety Features - You cannot die, be injured, maimed, poisoned, or other things that would make your stay in your personal candyland unenjoyable. Also if someone falls into the sky abyss or gets stuck they'll just float back up or pop into an unoccupied space after a few seconds.

Weather/Time Controls - Make everyday a perfect day, every time! The rain and snow also won't wear away any of your confectionery treasures but it might make things more sticky.

Flavorful Three - You get the classic vanilla, chocolate, and strawberry flavors for free! Ain't I nice?

Mixer - You can combine any mix of flavors, toppings, fruits, fillings, or batters for that extra tasty goodness!

Intensity - You get to determine how sweet, tart, hot, fizzy, or sour something is so if a Warhead isn't sour enough you can up the ante!

Sweet Tooth Immunity (Free or 50 CP) You will never get rotten teeth nor cavities, neither get sick or fat, not even so much as a tummy ache from eating any of your vast candy wonders! This will work on anyone you allow in your dimension. For 50 CP you can keep this when you leave!

Appearance

Here's where you decide how your confectionery land functions.

Floating Platforms (Free) Your basic 2D platforming level has its own charm as you jump from one small sugary island to another some of them even move to make it more challenging!

Funland (Free) A favorite of many, this feature is designed like a 3D floating Mario level with wide open spaces, faux mountains, and plenty of secrets stashed away.

Racetrack (10 CP) Don't want a land to hop around on but want to go fast instead? Here's a selection of all the different tracks from videogames to try where you can race your friends instead! Comes with car customization options so you can build your own taffy tearing speedster to scratch that competitive itch.

Themepark (20 CP) How about your very own candy based rides instead? Roller coasters, ferris wheels, merry-go-rounds, bumper cars, and any other theme park type ride available.

The Land Unknown (50 CP) Not enough for you? Have a continent for a more RPG experience. Mountains, trees, plains, deserts, tundra, canyons, rivers, lakes, and whatever else you can fit on a continent and they're all made in whatever flavors you want.

Planetary Palooza (50 CP) Ooh, excited are we? Yes, Jumper, for the low price of 50 CP you can have your very own planet of sweets. You can finally have that chocolate ocean you've always dreamed of.

Sweet Galaxy (100 CP) Okay, fine, here's the biggest environment on offer. An entire galaxy, yes you read that right, a galaxy of nothing but sweets. Comes with ship customization options with working nav computers and FTL drives so you can tour all the cotton candy nebulae, confectionery planets, stars, and then some. Don't worry about packing a spacesuit, just like Mario, you can breathe in space all you like, somehow.

Flavors

Got some flavors besides the classics you like? Here's a list of others, maybe you'll find what you're looking for.

Dark Chocolate (5 CP) Some folks love the occasional taste that only this type of chocolate can give and hey it's even healthy for you!

White Chocolate (5 CP) The white of vanilla but the sweetness of chocolate, truly a flavor of kings!

Fudge (5 CP) For that extra rich flavor, when chocolate by itself just isn't enough.

Mint (5 CP) It would be blasphemy if I didn't include this, you can't have mint ice cream without the mint after all.

Peppermint (5 CP) The classic candy flavor that has a variety of uses.

Cherry (5 CP) A rather seductive taste, the cherry flavor is perhaps deadly in how easily it seduces the tongue into loving it, especially with chocolate!

Raspberry (5 CP) For those adventurous enough to try, the Raspberry's tart flavoring can expand your tastebud's horizons like never before.

Blackberry (5 CP) The last of the berry trio its sweetness only matched by itself and a wonderful addition to your dimension.

Blueberry (5 CP) The oft forgotten berry of the batch. It may not be as sweet but its taste can take you by surprise.

Apple (5 CP) There's something about the smell of cooked apples that attracts anyone to a picnic. And they started singing, 'bye, bye Miss American Pie!'

Banana (5 CP) A little fruity flavoring never hurt anyone and bananas are classic!

Peach (5 CP) The princess of sweet flavors. May or may not attract fire breathing turtles to your dimension.

Lemon (5 CP) Another popular fruit flavor especially enjoyed in pies and candies.

Orange (5 CP) Everyday people find new ways to enhance their tasting experience and orange is a weird combination of zest and floaty delight.

Pineapple (10 CP) Somewhat of an odd duck, the pineapple, one can never decide if just the flavor by itself is good or not.

Coconut (10 CP) For that smooth tropical taste in your pie.

Pumpkin (10 CP) An earthy creamy taste that seems to be everywhere. People really love their pumpkin and you can too!

Pistachio (10 CP) Creamy pistachio has a nutty flavor other nuts are jealous of but normally it's far too expensive to buy such a treat due to its popularity among the rich.

Coffee (10 CP) Hiss! You heathen! sighs I suppose it would be unfair if I didn't include this for you caffeine junkies. Just keep it away from the chocolate!

Toffee (10 CP) The flavor that is superior to coffee in every way such that even those who eat coffee pretend it's toffee!

Peanut Butter (10 CP) From your classic reeses to...well, there is nothing else is there? This is a difficult flavor to get just right with anything else but perhaps you can make that a hobby while you gallivant around your dimension.

Caramel (20 CP) The one flavor you're always picking out of your teeth a week later, caramel is love, caramel is life!

Butterscotch (20 CP) If chocolate is the king of flavors then butterscotch is god and this list wouldn't be complete without it!

Sherbet (20 CP) This is the court jester of your flavors, appropriate since it can be hit or miss for many.

Cinnamon (20 CP) A bit of spice makes everything nice and the rich taste of cinnamon is ever so nice.

Ginger (20 CP) Can't forget the one flavor you need to make gingerbread men with, just don't pull their gumdrop buttons off!

Maple (20 CP) A little something for your syrup and perhaps it's just as good with other things too!

Green Tea (20 CP) True food connoisseurs know where they stand with all kinds of flavors and this is one that'll make the peons jealous!

Soda (20 CP) The experimental flavors of your favorite carbonated drinks, always seeking new heights to delight. Be the mad scientist you always wanted to be.

Batters

Now that you've chosen your flavors it's time to pick out what type of confectioneries you want for your scenery! No baking time necessary! Comes in whatever shapes or types you need!

Ice Cream (5 CP) Yeah, I know it's not a batter but of course you're going to want this. You'd riot if I missed this frozen treat. From shakes to popsicles this has all your ice cream options!

Cake (5 CP) You CAN have it and eat it too. Best of all? It's not a lie!

Cookie (5 CP) Fresh from the oven and will always have that taste of 'like mama used to make'. Covers your cookie options and graham crackers.

Dough (5 CP) Some people can't wait for their sweets to come out of the oven while others can't keep their fingers out of the batter before it even gets to the oven. Now you can have the batter and the finished goods!

Cereal (5 CP) Fruity Pebbles, Rice Krispies, and Captain Crunch oh my! And many more cereal types to choose from!

Cheesecake (5 CP) The only thing in the world worth eating while dying and added flavors are the afterlife. Is that a throne of strawberry cheesecake past the frosted pearly gates I see? Om, nom, nom!

Jello (10 CP) A gooey but firm substance that's fun to jump on and get caught inside of. It's the friendly non sentient cousin of Slimes!

Candy (10 CP) From cotton candy to taffy or candy cane to licorice and whatever else, this is the base to all your candy additions.

Brownie (10 CP) Some are a cake and ice cream kind of guy. Me? I'm an ice cream and brownie sort. I am never invited to parties.

Cupcake (10 CP) Now who doesn't love these little guys? They're cute enough to bounce on!

Pie (10 CP) From eating contests to food fights you don't want to miss out on pie filled fun! It's tradition!

Pop Tart (10 CP) Now and then all you want is a treat for the road and what better than this?

Bread (20 CP) If you've ever seen those tiny little rectangular loaves of sweet bread at a farmer's market this is what those are. Butter is the best topping for these.

Rolls (20 CP) Ever get a craving out of the blue so strong you can taste it? Those swirls, the smell of cinnamon and frosting, the warm spongy freshness of the bread…zombie groan

Donut (20 CP) Powdered or dipped in chocolate? However you like them here's your choice of happy fluffy rings.

Eclair (20 CP) Positively the best thing to come out of the desserts recipe book particularly when filled with other tasty things.

Pancake (20 CP) It may not be a dessert but the amount of sweets people add to their batter makes it good for all occasions!

Carbonated Liquid (20 CP) Perhaps instead of chocolate oceans you want clear fizzing geisers, lakes of green Mountain Dew, and seas of dark red Dr. Pepper? Mix with ice cream in a volcano for a float eruption.

Toppings

Perhaps the most exciting thing is deciding how you'll decorate your batters.

Butter (5 CP) The humble butter to go with the bread you bought!

Salt (5 CP) Odd choice, but who am I to judge?

Chips (5 CP) Chocolate varieties, mint, butterscotch, so long as you bought the flavor you get the corresponding chip!

Powdered Sugar (5 CP) Don't have enough sugar? Add more sugar! Comes in the regular white, brown, or crystal which can also be cubed!

Glaze (5 CP) Can't decorate those donuts properly without this!

Honey (5 CP) No bees to be had, just that pure golden molasses. You can really make a land of flowing honey, might have to work on the milk though.

Syrup (5 CP) Need fudge or butterscotch for that sundae? Add their flavor and pour it over your favorite dessert. Comes in hot or normal and you can change the type so you can pour it over pancakes or ice cream.

Sprinkles (5 CP) That sundae wouldn't be complete without these to sprinkle over it. Comes in both a variety of colors and shapes for any season!

Frosting (5 CP) Hardened glaze or puffy cake border swirls? A cake boss is you! So have whatever delights you!

Whipped Cream (5 CP) That cream puff fluff that's good on everything, hot chocolate, shakes, malts, pies, pancakes, mochas...also doubles as filling!

Marshmallows (5 CP) That squishy toy-like wonder, the melted temptation sensation, it can only be the marshmallow cut from the clouds themselves!

Peanut Butter (5 CP) As a topping you can get more use out of this than just the flavor by itself, for when added to chocolate chips you get reeses pieces!

Caramel (5 CP) The stickiest candy that ever sticked. Works well as a trap for rolling apples.

Peanuts (5 CP) No not that kind, Charlie Brown, just a nut that many people eat in numerous ways. Roasted, salted, plain, sprinkled in ice cream...

Almonds (5 CP) Another nut that's also bursting with healthy protein. What people add to their desserts to feel less guilty about indulging. Luckily that's not a problem for you, Jumper. Indulge away!

Pecans (5 CP) Also known as the other nut when you're thinking of nuts to grind. Wait is that right?

Sunflower Seeds (5 CP) Tiny, grainy, gets into everything, of course Anakin Skywalker loves them did you know?

Walnuts (5 CP) The hard super nut of fame! Excellent earthy taste and a durable shell for defense against zombies.

Macadamia Nuts (5 CP) An exotic food from a faraway land that has traveled to seek its fortune in your dimension. It may not be the hero you expected but it was the nut you needed.

Pistachios (5 CP) Not enough to have the flavor? I understand, the pistachio is most bewitching once sampled.

M&Ms (5 CP) Not just the most famous of candy brands but this is for all your glazed, hard shell, soft center candies.

Kisses (5 CP) Here's all your soft candy varieties. If you think of any besides the one listed let me know?

Gummies (5 CP) Bears, worms, those promotional versions sponsored by franchises, you now have every type imaginable. They look great hung up like weird frameless pictures and are even sturdy enough to use as handholds. Combine with warhead for your sour types!

Warhead (5 CP) Technically this is for all your sour candy types but let's be honest, it's gonna be the warhead.

Candy Beans (5 CP) Called jelly babies by the Fourth Doctor, this is also your category for non glazed, hard shell, soft center candies.

Tootsie Rolls (5 CP) All your chewy taffy based candies which make for some very handy rope.

Peppermints (5 CP) And all other hard candies that take a while to get through.

Oreo (5 CP) Cookie variety toppings! Now you can has all da blizzards!

Cinnamon (5 CP) Or any other spice to try on a dessert. You feeling a bit reckless, Jumper?

Bacon (5 CP) I see you're a Jumper of culture, yesssss. Let the bacon speak, it'll whisper sweet greasy nothings in your ear.

Soda (5 CP) Float like a cloud, tickle like carbonated joy. The fizzy concoction for all your floats, punches, and the extra zing in desserts. All the sodas are here, even the knockoffs!

Gold Flakes (5 CP) Ohoho! Getting a bit fancy aren't we? You'd better bring your top hat and monocle, only the best for such an extravagant topping!

Fillings

For those things that people love to stuff in other things.

Pudding (5 CP) Want to fill a bath with it or a whole lake? Hope you packed your goggles and swimwear!

Jelly (5 CP) If there's a choice between whipped cream and jelly, pick the jelly. You jellin?

Cream (5 CP) Buttery smooth, cheesecake groove. Light and fluffy, for cakes so puffy! All the cream filling options for your tastebuds.

Fruity Delights

The flavor of something is nice and all but sometimes you just need more! So here's a list of fruit you can add so that sundae isn't missing the cherry on top! Each fruit is perfect, without blemish or bruise and just ripe!

Apples (5 CP) A crunchy goodness that can be cooked into a glazed softness sprinkled with cinnamon. Or dunk the crunchy into caramel and roll it in nuts!

Bananas (5 CP) Think of the banana splits, Jumper! Those poor splits!

Pears (5 CP) Rhymes with bears, so they must be good at many things by association!

Peaches (5 CP) Soft and sweet!

Strawberries (5 CP) You're fortunate enough to get the jumbo kind. I'm so jealous!

Cherries (5 CP) At least these ones don't explode, amirite?

Raspberries (5 CP) It is said that when your back is turned these fruits will laugh at you. Or maybe that's the fairies hiding in the bushes again.

Blackberries (5 CP) You've gotta watch out for these, they think they're ninja and will sneak up on you but they're very clumsy about it.

Blueberries (5 CP) While you're concerned about clumsy ninja fruit wannabes the real ninja are lurking. That's right, these! When you least expect it they'll be there and soon everywhere!

Pineapples (5 CP) The one thing all ninja fear, the porcupine fruit. The holy hand grenade of edible plants!

Oranges (5 CP) A fresh scent that's great for cleaning up evidence.

Lemons (5 CP) For those times you need to nuke them from orbit, just to be sure. The range of its acid spray is to be feared, feared I tell you!

Watermelons (5 CP) They make a lovely basket.

Honeydew Melons (5 CP) An excellent bikini in a pinch.

Cantaloupes (5 CP) With pineapples you'd have the makings of a bowling alley.

Coconut (5 CP) Need a helmet? Coconut is here!

Features

Is your dimension a little dull despite all the confectionery treats surrounding you enough to give the hero of Popstar indigestion? Here's a list to help spice up the functions and additions to make things more lively!

Scenery in Motion (Free) Just having platforms move can be quite limiting so here's an enhancement that lets you get any piece of your dimension moving. Have candy flowers sway in the wind, giant sugary boulders roll in a certain pattern and at a set pace, even make the ground into a walking sidewalk to get from place to place.

Portals (Free) Place portals anywhere to get anywhere instantly. Size and distance are no problem! You can even set up a hub if you need one or two.

Gingerbread Buildings (Free) Houses and whatever other types of buildings you want now dot your dimension, from rural homes to entire cities, designed in whatever themes you like! Don't worry, there's no evil cannibal witches here!

Creatures (Free) Does the dimension seem a bit empty? Now you can add an assortment of confectionery creatures to populate it! They're like the Harry Potter chocolate frogs so you can eat them too! Any creature from a world you've been to can be added so you can have gingerbread dragons, aliens made of taffy, or little cottontail bunnies made of real cotton candy!

Volcanic Activity (Free) Want geysers that spew candy? Or some of your mountains to erupt with hot fudge? Here's your permission slip!

Exotic Landscaping (20 CP) Looking for something to spice up the scenery? Want some giant bubbles made from Coca Cola you can jump on? Spikes of regenerating, sparkling spearmint growing from cold mountain sides? Places where you can walk upside down? Or have caverns with a pretty starry backdrop? All your weird landscaping options are here, even the cartoony rain cloud which you can set to drop buckets of soda in one spot or look for creatures to hunt. Whatever weird thing you come up with you can make it with this.

Confectionery Weather (20 CP) This handy enhancement will change your normal weather conditions into a proper thematic atmosphere. Now you can have it rain gumdrops or let powdered sugar replace snow, anything you like!

Sweet Magic (20 CP) An Aesthetic enhancement for you and anyone you bring with, that can be toggled on and off. It's no good to have a dimension of desserts and not appear dressed for the part. You, your magic, and your items all gain a cosmetic change which you can freely adjust. Ever wanted to look like a man made of chocolate? Want your sword to be made of jello and still cut? Or your spells to leave a trail of sprinkles? These and many more special effects are yours. You can even use this when you leave.

Video Game Scape (100 CP) Is there not enough to do in your sugar palace? Are you sitting on a throne of Tootsie rolls bored to candy bean tears? This feature can turn your secret sweet dimension into any video game of your choice, candyfied! Whether a single level or an entire story arc you can now play any type of game anytime you want, however many times you want! Race against a gummy Sonic collecting donuts in place of rings, defend the cookie walls of Helm's Deep against the hordes of peanut Uruks, fight the Star Wars Imperial forces with peppermint blasters. You can do it all!

Willy Wonka Factory (100 CP, free if Supplementing to Willy Wonka) Oh yes, your very own magic candy factory, Jumper! You can create new types of candies and imbue them with effects to make them more fun. Want candy versions of Mario's power ups? You got it! And once they're made they can be distributed across your dimension with ease. What's more is that your factory can appear somewhere in your host reality if you want and deliver candy to any shop you own to share with that world and earn you some money. It can also research samples of your host reality's confections and reproduce an improved version even if the original were a magical treat. You could beat Wonka himself at his own game!
